

Module 4 Learner Survey

ID Number

Date

The cancer screening program you are working with recently created drive-by Influenza-Fecal Immunochemical Test (FLU-FIT) programs and changed the locations for their programming to other innovative sites. This is an example of:

- Adaptation
- Evolution
- Drift
- Voltage increase

Dose, timeline, behavioral theory and content are all examples of the _____ in an intervention.

- Form
- Adaptable components
- Core components
- Cultural tailoring

Which of the following can usually be changed or adapted in an intervention without affecting the core components?

- Population of Focus
- Setting
- Cultural elements to fit population of focus
- All of the above